REMEMBER ME.

Yes, dear one, the envied train
Of those around thee homage pay;
But wilt thou ever kindly deign
To think of me, when far away?
Thy angel smile, thy lovely form,
For weary years I may not see,
Whilst I thy absence fondly mourn,
Wilt thou—Remember me?

But not in Fashion's brilliant hall,
Surrounded by the gay and fair,
And thou art fairest of them all,
Oh, think not, think not of me there.
But when the thoughtless crowd is gone,
And hushed the voice of careless glee,
When all is silent, still and lone,
And thou art sad—Remember me.

Remember me—but, loveliest, ne'er
When in his orbit fair, and high,
The morning's glowing charioteer
Rides proudly up the blushing sky;
But when the waning moonbeam sleeps
At midnight on the lonely lea,
And Nature's pensive spirit weeps
In all her dews—Remember me!

Remember me, I pray; but not
In Flora's gay and blooming hour,
When every brake has found its note,
And sunshine smiles in every flower;
But when the falling leaf is sear,
And withers sadly on the tree,
And o'er the ruins of the year
Dark Autumn sighs—Remember me.

Remember me! but choose not, dear,
The hour when on the gentle lake
The spostive waxelets, blue and clear,
Soft rippling on the margin break;
But when the deaf'ning billows foam
In madness o'er the pathless sea,
Then let thy pilgrim fancy roam
Across them—and Remember me!

THE POT OF GOLD.

A Pretty Cute Story.

Deacon Bancroft, though a very good man, in the main, and looked up to with respect by all the inhabitants of the village of Centerville, was rumored to have, in Yankee parlance, "a pretty sharp eye to the main chance"—a peculiarity from which deacons are not always exempt.

In worldly matters he was decideely well to do, having inherited a fine farm from his father, which was growing yearly more valuable. It might be supposed that, under these circumstances, the deacon, who was fully able to do so, would have found a help-meet to share his house and name. But the deacon was wary.—Matrimony was to him in some measure a matter-of-money, and it was his firm resolve not to marry unless he could thereby enhance his worldly prosperity. Unhappily, the little villiage of Centerville, and the towns in the immediate vicinity contained few who were qualified in this important particular, and of those there were probably none with whom the deacon's suit would have prospered

So it happened that year after year passed away, until Deacon Bancroft was in the prime of life—forty-five or thereabouts—and still unmarried, and in all human probability likely to remain so.

Deacon Bancroft's nearest neighbor was a widow.

The widow Wells, who had passed through one matrimonial experience, was some three or four years younger than the Deacon Bancroft. She was still quite a comely woman. Unfortunately, the late Mr. Wells had not been able to leave her sufficient to make her independent of the world. All that she possessed was the small, old fashioned house in which she lived, and a small amount of money, which was insufficient to support her and a little son of seven, though hardly to be classed as "productive"—of anything but mischief.

The widow was therefore obliged to take three or four boarders, to eke out the scanty income, which of course imposed upon her considerable labor and anxiety.

It is not surprising, then, that under these circumstances, she should, now and then, have bethought herself of a second marriage, as a method of bettering her condition. Or again, need we esteem it a special wonder, if, in her reflection upon this point she should have cast her eyes upon her neighbor, Deacon Bancroft.—The deacon, as we have already said, was in flourishing circumstances. He would be able to maintain a wife in great comfort; and being one of the chief personages in the village, could accord her a prominent social position.

Some sagacious person has observed, however, that it takes two to make a match, a fact to be seriously considered; for in the present case it was exceedingly doubtful whether the worthy deacon, even if he had known the favorable opinion of his next neighbor, would have been inclined to propose changing her name to Bancroft, unless, indeed, a suitable motive was brought to bear upon him.—Here was a chance for finessing.

One evening, after a day of fatiguing labor, the widow Wells sat at the fire in the sitting room, with her feet resting on the fender.

"If I ever am so situated as not to have to work so hard," she murmured, "I shall be happy. It's a hard life, keeping boarders. If I was only as well off as Deacon Bancroft."

Still the widow kept up her thinking, and by-and-by her face brightened up.—She had an idea, which she resolved to put into execution at the earliest moment. What it was the reader will discover in the sequel.

"Henry," said she to her son, the next morning, "I want you to stop at Deacon Bancroft's as you go along to school, and ask him if he will call and see me in the course of the morning, or afternoon, just as he finds it most convenient."

Deacon Bancroft was not a little surprised at the summons. However, about 11 o'clock, he called in. The widow had got on the dinner and had leisure to sit down. She appeared a little embarrased.

"Yes, Deacon Bancroft, I do; but I am very much afraid you will think very strange of it—at least of what I have to say to you."

The deacon very politely promised not to be surprised, altnough at the same time his curiosity was visibly excited.

"Suppose," said the widow, casting down her eyes—mind, I am only supposing the case—suppose a person a person should find a pot of gold pieces in their cellar, would the law have a right to touch it, or would it belong to them?"

The deacon pricked up his ears.

"A pot of gold pieces, widow? Why, unquestionably, the law would have nothing to do with it."

"And the one who formerly owned the house could'nt come forward and claim it, could he, deacon?" inquired the widow, further, with apparent anxiety.

"No, madam, certainly not—when the house was disposed of, everything went with it as a matter of course."

"I am glad to hear it, deacon. You won't think strange of the question, but it happened to occur to my mind, and I thought I would like to have it satisfied."

"Certainly, widow, certainly," said the deacon, abstractedly.

"And, deacon, as you are here, I hope you'll stop to dinner with us. It will be ready punctually at twelve."

"Well, no," said the deacon, "I'm obleeged to ye, but they'll be expecting me home."

"At any rate, deacon," said the widow, taking a steaming mince pie from the oven, "you won't object to taking a piece of my mince pie; you must know that I rather pride myself on my mince pies."

The warm pie sent forth such a delicious odor that the deacon was sorely tempted, and after saying, "Well, really," with the intention of refusing he finished by saying, "On the whole, I guess I will, as it looks so nice."

The widow was really a good cook, and the deacon ate with much gusto the generous slice the widow cut for him; and, after a little more chattering upon important subjects, withdrew in some mental perplexity

"Was it possible," thought he, "that the widow could really have found a pot of gold in her cellar? She did not say so, to be sure, but why should she show so much anxiety to know as to the proprietorship of treasure thus found, if she had not happened upon some? To be sure, so far as his knowledge extended, there was no one who occupied the house would be in the least likely to lay up such an amount of gold; but the house was one hundred and fifty years old, at the very least, and undoubtedly had many occupants of which he knew nothing. It might be, after all. The widow's earnest desire to have him think it was only curiosity, likewise gave additional probability to the supposition.

"I will wait and watch," thought the deacon.

It so happened that Deacon Bancroft was one of the directors in a Savings' Institution, situated in the next town, and accordingly used to attend meetings of the board.

On the next occasion of this kind, widow Wells sent over to know if he could carry her over with him, as she had a little business to attend to there.

The request was readily accorded.—Arrived in town, Mrs. Wells requested to be set down at the bank.

"Ha, ha!" thought the deacon; "that means something."

He said nothing, however, but determined to come back; and find out, as he could readily, from the cashier, what business she had with the bank.

The widow tripped into the office, looking very nonchalant.

"Can you give me small bills for a five dollar gold piece?" she inquired.

"With pleasure," was the reply.

"By the way, the bank is in quite a flourishing condition, is it not?"

"None in the State on a better footing," was the prompt response.

"You receive deposits, do you not?"

"Do you receive as high as—as five thousand dollars?"

"No," said the cashier, with some surprise; "or rather we do not allow interest on so large a sum. One thousand dollars is our limit. Did you know of any one who—"

"It is of no consequence," said the widow, hurriedly; "I only asked for curiosity. By the way, did you say how much interest you allowed on such deposits as come within your limit?"

"Five per cent., madam,"

"Thank you, I only asked for curiosity. What a beautiful morning it is!"

And the widow tripped lightly out.—Shortly after the deacon entered.

"How's business now, Mr. cashier?" he asked.

"About as usual."

"Had any new deposits lately?"

"None of any magnitude."

"I brought over a lady this norning, who seemed to have some business with you."

"The widow Wells?"

"Yes."

"Do you know," asked the cashier, "whether she has money left her lately?"

"None that I know of," said the deacon pricking up his ears. "Why? Did she depoist any?"

"No; but she inquired whether we received deposits as high as five thousand dollars."

"Indeed!" ejaculated the deacon.—"Was that all she came for?" he inquired a moment afterwards.

"No; she exchanged a gold piece for some bills."

"Ha!" pondered the deacon, reflectively, "did she give any reason for inquiring?"

"No, she said she only asked from curiosity."

The deacon left the bank in deep thought. He came to the conclusion that this "curiosity" only veiled a deeper motive. He no longer entertained a doubt that the widow had actually found a pot of gold in her cellar, and appearances seemed to indicate that its probable value was equal to five thousand dollars. The gold piece which she had exchanged at the bank appeared to confirm this story.

"I rather think," said tha deacon, complacently, "I can see into a millstone about as far as most people"—a statement, the literal truth of which I defy any one to question, though, as to the prime fact of people's being able to see into a millstone at all, doubts have now and then intruded themselves upon my mind.

Next Sunday the widow Wells appeared at church in a new and stylish bonnet, which led to some such remarks as these:

"How much vanity some people have, to be sure!"

"How a womon that has to keep boarders for a living can afford to dash out with such a bonnet, is more than I can tell! I should think she was old enough to know better."

This last remark was made by a lady just six months younger than the widow, whose attemps to catch a husband had hitherto proved utterly unavailing.

"I suppose," continued the some young lady, "she is trying to catch a second husband with her finery. Before I would condescend to such means I'd—I'd drown myself."

In this last amiable speech the young lady had unwittingly hit upon the true motive. The widow was intent upon catching Deacon Bancroft, and she indulged in a costly bonnet, not because she supposed he would be caught with finery, but because this would strengthen in his mind the idea that she had stumbled upon hidden wealth.

The widow had calculated shrewdly, and the display had the effect she anticipated.

Monday afternoon, Deacon Bancroft found an errand that called him over to the widow's. It chanced to be about tea time. He was importuned to stay to tea, and, somewhat to his surprise, actually did.

The polite widow, who knew the deacon's weak point, brought on one of her best mince pies, a slice of which her guest partook of with zest.

"You'll take another piece, I know," said she, persuasively.

"Really, I am ashamed," said the deacon, and he passed his plate. "The fact is," he said, apologetically, "your pies are so nice that I don't know where to stop."

"Do you call these nice?" said the widow, modesly. "I only call them common. I can make mince pies, when I set out to, but this time I didn't have such good luck as usual."

"I shouldn't want any better," said the deacon, emphatically.

"Then I hope, if you like them, you'll drop in to tea often. We ought to be more neighborly, Deacon Bancroft."

Deacon Bancroft assented, and he meant what he said. The fact is the deacon began to think the widow was a very charming woman. She was very comely, and she was such an excellent cook! Besides, he had no doubt in his own mind that she was worth a considerable sum of money. What objection could there be her becoming Mrs. Bancroft? He brought this question before her one evening.—The widow blushed, professed to be greatly surprised—in fact she had never thought of the thing in her fife—but, on the whole she had thought highly of the deacon, and, to cut short the matter, accepted him.

A month afterwards she was installed as mistress of the deacon's large house, somewhat to the surprise to the village people, who could not conceive how she had brought him over.

Some weeks after the ceremony, the deacon ventured to inquire about the pot of gold which she had found in the cellar.

"Pot of gold!" she exclaimed, in surprise; "I know of none."

"But," said the deacon, disconcerted; "you know you asked me about whether the law could claim it."

'O, lor! deacon, I only asked from curiosity.'

'And was that the reason you made inquiries at the bank?'

'Certainly. What else could it be?'

The deacon went out to the barn, and, for about half an hour, sat in silent meditation. At the end of that time, he ejaculated, as a closing consideration, 'After oll, she makes good mince pies!"

It gives me pleasure to state that the union between the deacon and the widow proved a very happy one, although to the end of his life, he never could quite make up his mind about "That Pot of Gold."

TUESDAY MORNING, OCT'R 26th.

ANOTHER DUEL IN PROSPECT.

GEORGE PENN JOHNSON is in for it, again, as it appears. J. C. MCKIBBEN, California Representative in Congress, visited Marin County recently, for the purpose of challenging GEO. PEN JOHNSON, who is in custody of the Sheriff of that county, for shooting FERGUSON in a duel. Certain remarks JOHNSON as editor of the National, made about MCKIBBEN, is the cause. It is to be hoped they will fight, and that JOHNSON will shoot him—not very bad, but just enough to give him a "taste in the mouth." To go up to Marin to challenge a prisoner, is very much like his joining with another, in an attack of a brother in law in the cars last winter, at Chambersburg, Pa. The above is as report, and is probably true. What will that portion of the press and community, glorifiers of MCKIBBEN, BRODERICK & Co., and denouncers of JOHNSON, say to this? Those who follow up the latter, and endeavor to blacken him as a murderer, assassin, and the like. Suppose JOHNSON kills MCKIBBEN, he would be a double murderer—probably. The contrary result would be but a dispensation of Divine Providence.

So goes the world. These puppies would bark at the man who wouldn't show fight upon certain occasions, and condemn him if he did fight and made a successful out of it. Most of them go armed and ready to use them as efficiently as a trembling hand and a cowardly heart will admit of, upon a slight provocation; but duelling is horrible, and not to be thought of with them. They would pursue HEIBERT to the ends of the earth with bloodhound malignity, and yet would not exercise any portion of the forbearance in self defence that he did. They now pursue JOHNSON as the murderer of FERGUSON, and make the latter a martyr. The practice of duelling should be denounced, but give us association with those who believe in the code, and implicitly follow it, in preference to those who affect to condemn the system, but at all times carry arms ready to draw and use them, particularly when drunk.

NEWSPAPERS, &C.

The Union and Bee are at present, the only papers in Sacramento, the Mercury having "gone under." The Bee mentions those that from time to time have enjoyed a brief existence in that city: The sum total is 31; of which 16 were morning and 6 evening papers; 8 were weeklies, and one semi-weekly. The frailty of newspaperdom is thus particularly manifest. Continual failures of newspapers is no more than a reasonable expectancy. There are more than double the number of journals in this State in proportion to the population, than there are in any other State in the Union, and their average cost to each supporter, is three times as great. They grow up like mushrooms in a night: created by some temporary party or clique, who can by extortion, excitement, and the forcing process, raise money enough to buy the Press and Type. Its establishment is to answer the particular ends and aims of the projectors. It is but the representation of their interests, and has no basis farther than that. Its existence is superfluous, and it accomplishes little for the public good, for it is prostituted to begin with. The causes of its creation quickly disappear, and with these go its support. Its demise has shortly of course, to be recorded, at which a wail of subscribers and friends is heard: one at the non fulfillment of paid in advance subscriptions, and the other for pecuniary aid and comfort rendered at the starting, now never to be returned. It injures healthy papers and prejudices the community against them. No class of business men in this State has so poor a credit as publishers of newspapers, and it is reasonable that it is so. These remarks are not made as applicable to the Mercury particularly, though we do not know but they are so. All we know of that paper, is, that it was ably edited, and was to us a most welcome exchange.

BEAR VALLEY AFFAIRS.

An action of injunction has been commenced by the present occupants of the Josephine Vein, against Sheriff CRIPPEN and Col. JOHN C. FREMONT. Its object is to enjoin the Sheriff from executing the writ of restitution now in his hands, by virtue of which he is to restore to Col. FREMONT that vein or a portion thereof, at present in hands of plaintiffs. The substance of the complaint is as follows:

Action for injunction to restrain the Sheriff from executing the writ of restitution, &c., against the plaintiffs, (mortagees or Merced Mining Co.) on the ground that plaintiff's lessees have been entitled to the property since 1851, and have been in possession ever since; and were in the possession of it at the time of the forcible entry &c. suit. That plaintiffs were joined in such suits with CLARKE and VANDEWATER, and were acquitted. And that the Sheriff under the writ is attempting to dispossess and eject plaintiffs from other property described in the writ; the writ being for possession of the upper shaft of the Josephine Vein, while the Sheriff claims the whole vein. Judge BONDURANT has issued an order to defendants to show cause why an injunction should not be granted on plaintiff's complaint, and Saturday next is the time set for the hearing.

QUARTZ MILLS.

Mr. J. E. CLAYTON of this place, is at present engaged in superintending the erection of two Quartz Mills in Tuolumne county. One a water mill, to run 8 stamps, and will use one of Kerson's cast iron pulverizers. The mill is expected to reduce from 16 to 26 tons of rock per day. It is built for Col. R. MCKEE of San Francisco, and is intended to be a custom mill, or one to crush at a certain price per ton for other parties. It is situated near Cherokee Camp, to the eastward of Sonora.

The other is a steam mill, to run 4 stamps for dry crushing and two arrastras. It is built for the Buchanan Company, and is situated at the forks of the Tuolumne river, fifteen miles to the southeast of Sonora, at which place the above mentioned company have a most excellent and extensive ledge; one of the best in the country, in Mr. CLAYTON'S opinion.—For some time they have been grinding in arrastras, and the rock thus reduced, has yielded over $100 per ton in the average.

We are glad to know of Mr. CLAYTON'S employment in the above enterprises, and can recommend him to those contemplating the erection of quartz mills, as a very competent mining engineer.

The steam quartz mill of GOODMAN, SNOOKS & Co., formerly Goodman, Diltz & Co., Whitlock's, is in very successful operation. An average of over $2000 per week, for sometime, has been obtained.

Col FREMONT'S steam quartz mill, at Bear Valley, is also paying handsomely. Seldom or never has less than $1,500 been taken out after a steady week's run, and as high as $3,000 has been obtained.

EDITORIAL FOUT IN PROSPECT.—One of the editors of the Union Democrat, Sonora, is going to kick the editor of the Herald, of the same place, as soon as the "old man" comes home. When it is did, state where and how many times the boot was applied, Mr. Belligerant, and you shall have a puff.

THE ATLANTIC CABLE.

Mr. John Bull has the sulks because of Jonathan's extravagant demonstrations of joy at the successful laying of the Atlantic Cable. John claims through the London Times that he supplied the money—that he made the cable—that he furnished electricians, engineers, and more ships than Jonathan, and finally, that he gave character to the enterprise. Very much of what Bull says is true. Jonathan has made an ass of himself on this occasion, beyond doubt, as he is apt to do whenever convenient opportunities for glorification of individualities occur. It is sickish, the adulation and puppyism displayed towards Cyrus W. Field, Capt. Hudson, officers and crew of the Niagara. It is proper and right to celebrate the laying of the cable as a great event—great in its national importance. But a strange misconception of the proper, in the celebrations which have occurred, is manifest. Not only is the whole thing overdone, but is wrongly done. Jonathan has done it before, and will do it again doubtless.

As an instance in showing Jonathan's capacity for acting the great fool, the visit to this country of Kossuth, Jenny Lind, and recently some Pacha, a Turkish Admiral, need only be cited. The President, to begin with, showed an unaccountable want of good taste in his congratulatory response to Queen Victoria's Message, in alluding to a matter foreign and far fetched, to-wit: That all Christendom should unite in maintaining the neutrality of the cable in time of war as well as in peace. The cable connects British territory simply; and that she took the greater part of the burthen in laying it, is undeniable.

If Jonathan should acquire Cuba, and lay a cable between that island and New Orleans, even with the assistance of British ships and capital, he would be very likely to put his hands in his pockets and commence whistling Yankee Doodle upon the receipt of such an overture, even from the proper authorities of England, as that sent by our worthy President to Queen Victoria. The matter should have been communicated to the English Government, if communicated at all. That Jonathan would hold on to both ends of the cable between Cuba and the United States, if he could, in war as well as in peace, is altogether likely, and so will Great Britain do the same in the present instance, or ought to.

Governmentally and individually Jonathan is hard to hold. A great drooling, green, slab sided cuss, with a foot like a codfish; and when he is under the influence of his vanity, as he often is, he cuts up, and his antics are not of the most graceful description.

STATE ITEMS.

.....A special election for State Senator to fill the place made vacant by the death of Hon. W. I. FERGUSON, will occur in Sacramento, Nov. 6.

.....The Postmaster of Sacramento, Jesse Elder, has left, and owes the Government $900. So says the Sacramento Bee.

.....The overland Mail Stage via the southern route, left San Francisco, Monday night of last week, with seven passengers for the Atlantic States.

.....The agent of the Overland Mail Co. has offered if any party will deposit $10,000 therefor, to make the trip between this and the eastern terminus of the route, in 18 days, or forfeit $50,000.

.....The "head" of the Home Journal, has been changed, not for the better. The present one looks too Ethiopian for a literary paper. Change again, friend DUNCAN.

.....Gen. Harney arrived on the last steamer en route for Oregon, to take command of the army, which will soon be concentrated there. A winter campaign against the Indians is expected.

.....Ex-Gov. Johnson was shot at on his way to Weaverville from Shasta. The ball passed through his clothes. The cause of shooting is not known, nor is the would be murderer.

.....Opposition steamers, Princess and Cornelia, are running on the Sacramento. The National says that any one consulting comfort and convenience, will travel on the old company's line.

.....It is said that the over land mail stages will not run through Visalia the coming winter, and not perhaps hereafter, but will keep around the southern end of Tulare Lake. Its nearest approach to Visalia, if this is the case, will be about thirty miles.

.....Forty applications were made in one day at San Francisco for passage on the overland mail stages, but with the exception of six, were refused, owing to the present temporary insufficiency of accommodation on the route.

.....The third overland mail stage, southern line, arrived at San Francisco Sunday night. It left St. Louis, September 23d. The news is a little later, but not important. Yellow fever was raging at New Orleans. 107 deaths occurred in that city Sept. 22d.

HORRIBLE.—A hog, having in his mouth a dead child, apparently not more than 24 hours old, was discovered in a vacant lot on Folsom street, San Francisco, one day last week. The beast was forced to drop the body, which was taken to the Coroner.

.....Three men were arrested in one day last week in Stockton, for maltreating women. One female was choked; another was pounded on the head with a pistol; another was assaulted and battered.—The Marshal of the city (Kennedy) was arrested on the same day for displaying a deadly weapon; all of which is no particular credit to that puritanical, slow going place.

.....The Methodist Church South held their yearly conference at Stockton. The increase of members for the past year, was stated to be 1,500. The following are the stations of those ministers with whom the people of this region are acquainted:—Rev. J. C. Simmons, re appointed to San Jose; B. R. Johnson, last year in Merced county, Petaluma; M. Clampit, last year in Visalia, appointed Presiding Elder on the Marysville Circuit; R. W. Bingham, Stockton; J. S. L. Wood, re-appointed to Cathay's Valley; E. B. Lockley, last year in Mariposa, to Visalia; T. C. Barton, to Mariposa.

.....Wine making is now being carried on largely in the southern part of the State. Large quantities will be manufactured by the Messrs. Sansevain, near Los Angeles. From a Mr. Wolfskill's vineyard, other parties are making a large amount, paying the proprietor 40 cents per gallon for wine made. In this last vineyard are 60,000 vines, which will yield on an average twelve pounds of grapes per vine. As twelve pounds of grapes will make a gallon of wine, it will be seen that the profit of such a vineyard is very great.

.....Late advices from Utah indicate a breaking up of the Mormons. Hundreds are leaving eastward, despite Brigham, which they dare not do prior to the occupation of Salt Lake city by the army. In one train which passed Camp Scott, were nearly three hundred women. They were principally English and Scotch, and expressed the utmost abhorrence of Mormonism. Evidences of their moral debasement, however, were abundant, and it is probable that they in future will lead lives of prostitution.

.....There appears to be an increasing demand for divorces in San Francisco and in fact throughout the State. The fault is with the women, to a great extent. They passed for more than they were worth, in most instances, when they were married—that is, married above their positions, as they were able to do, owing to the demand for the article. The cheat ascertained, dissatisfaction ensues at the close of a short honeymoon, and divorce is the remedy. Another reason—"suckers" are produced alarmingly, often too soon after marriage, to suit the tastes of captious and pharasaical society. This is probably owing to the fecundity of the climate, but over particular husbands have been known to find fault thereat, and petition to be divorced, which is sometimes granted. These little affairs seem to have occurred oftener this year than before, hence it may be argued that a wet winter is to occur, prehaps.

MATRIMONIAL.—A lady from New England States, over 30 years of age, of irreproachable character, would like to communicate with a gentleman with a view to matrimony. References given and required. Address "MARTHA," Bulletin Office.

There is a fellow up here, likewise over 30 years old, who is perfectly willing to connect with MARTHA, but wants that female to understand that his earthly possessions are small, very—and his prospects less. Barrin' this, he thinks he would in all respects fill the bill. He would assure MARTHA that he would do his best to board and clothe her, and that, if through any unforseen misfortune, he couldn't house her, he would stack her out. If MARTHA is willing to take the chances, she will please address "CRACKER, Mariposa Post Office."

LOCAL ITEMS.

.....The new steam Quart Mill of WHITE, RIFE & Co., on Buckeye, is in active operation. It is paying moderately well.

.....The snow has driven lots of "Pocahontoses" out from their summer retreats in the mountains. Numbers of them are about town, some of whom (the handsomest) are very hospitally entertained by their friends—the Virginians.

DELUDED.—Mr. CROCKER, formerly of Horse Shoe Bend, writes to a friend in this place, from Minnesota, that a company of 300 men had just started from the place he then was, for Frazer river, across lots and over the mountains.

.....FORD & NYE, Stockton, have received a large lot of Plows from the celebrated manufactory of T. Ogg Shaw. Their plows are now considered the best in use. Farmers will soon be in want of this implement, and they can do no better than to send to the above mentioned firm.

.....Several Mexican packers, who left Mariposa on Monday of last week, with a mule train of provisions for Walker's River, have returned. They encountered such quantities of snow before reaching Yo Semite Valley, as to compel them to turn back.

.....Mr. BENJ. MOCK, while hunting near this place, one day last week, came upon a flock of deer, consisting of three large bucks and a doe. He shot one of the former, dead, and singularly enough the others did not move out of their tracks. He reloaded and killed another, and then another, when the doe concluded to emigrate.

.....The Globe Foundry and Machine Shop, Stockton. Those dasiring heavy castings for Saw or Quartz Mills, or such Mills complete, engines, &c., can obtain them at this Foundry of superior quality, and as cheap, if not cheaper than in San Francisco. Those in want of machinery should call, and examine at least. See advertisement.

1 oz. Rhooborb,
1 oz. Bolsom Compeavey,
1 oz. Sperits of Sweet Niter,
½ oz. Sperits of Turintine.

.....The Merced Mining Company are at present taking rock for crushing, from a vein in the mountain, near and to the southeast of their mill, at Mt Ophir. This vein was opened originally by this company—was afterwards worked by the English Company, lessors of the Merced Company and by them abandoned. From the upper shafts in the mountain, quartz sufficient to supply the mill, which runs 24 stamps, is taken; the average yield of which we are credibly informed is $20 per ton.

.....HUNTING EXTRAORDINARY.—Recorder HART of the Land Office, Visalia, closes up a rambling letter to us as follows: "You will excuse this when I tell you that I left in company with two gentlemen this morning on a hunting exercurhersion to the Lake. We have gone till 7 o'clock this evening, since which time until then, we have been cooking and eating and drinking supper we kill'd. —— bottles of cocktail, 1 rabbit, 1 other rabbit called a hare, 1 dove, 1 digger, 'nary bear or coyote. I will write you further particulars about these delightful sportings, which we have often, when I have another excuse." Do it Ned! and give the names of your associate Nimrods.

.....At the Turkey Shoot near Hornitos, on Saturday last, ten Turkeys were killed and wounded altogether. In two more affairs of this kind, the getter up of the shoot confidently expects to get rid of the broods which two old hen turkeys have raised the past summer. Friend WILLIAM fired 30 shots, but owing to the wind, he didn't succeed in disabling any gobbling biped. All his shots, however, were fired into one place—viz: the side of a high hill. The next turkey diversion will take place Oct. 30. Those who stood to their guns in the last attack, will be placed 25 steps in advance, in order to give confidence to the new recruits who may happen to be present.

HEAVY RAIN.—A storm commenced here on Thursday and continued through the following night. A large amount of water fell. The creeks and many of the gulches were running considerable streams on Friday, but the earth was so dry that their continuance was not very lasting. An end is thus put to river mining for this season. Already miners are arriving from the Merced, looking out places to work in the dry diggings. It is unfortunate, the rain at this time, for while it has driven the men out of the rivers, enough has not fallen to enable them to work elsewhere, and a sufficiency for this purpose is unlooked for at this time of the year, though it is to be hoped that the miners will be happily disappointed in this respect.

.....Capt. C. S. MCKEOWN has purchased the Whittier Property at Agua Frio. The Saloon is re-opened and stocked with the very best of everything. The Hotel will shortly be opened with increased accommodations. The polite and gentlemanly qualities of Capt. McK., combined with an excellent business capacity, especially qualifies him to be the popular proprietor of such an establishment. The Mariposa Brass Band was in attendance on the opening of the Saloon on Saturday night, as were a number of Mariposians; and they express themselves as having had a "good time;" and we judge they did from appearances. We regret our inability to have been present.

PERSONAL.—The departure of families, particularly when a return is not to be expected, and when those occupy prominent positions in society, is matter of much regret to permanent denizens of our mountain towns, where society and the influence of ladies is our great and acknowledged want.

On Saturday last, Mr. JOSEPH H. WHITTIER, of Agua Frio, and his accomplished lady, bid a final adieu to their many friends in this vicinity, and departed for San Francisco. Mr. WHITTIER is an old resident of this County, and is well and very favorably known to all. Especially the departure of Mrs. WHITTIER, is a loss to society and our social circles, not to be easily repaired. Her personal qualities, wit, and graces of mind, were ever acknowledged, and will not be forgotten. Should they leave California, may favoring gales waft them to their destination, and may health and prosperity ever attend them.

.....The San Francisco Times, is an excellent paper. It contains a large amount of reading matter—is spicy and interesting. Its political inclination is that which we do not approve, but that is not essential to our approval of its intrinsic merits.—But there is one other thing which we do not approve, to wit: In the Weekly last received at this office, there appears seven paragraphs, or items, taken from the GAZETTE verbatim et literatim. One of which is credited properly—two are credited to the Star of this place, and the others are not credited at all. This is rather "crowding the mourners," and while we do not wish to be considered as over particular and rigid in this matter of newspaper etiquette, we must take the chances and object to these wholesale unwarrantable liberties. We cannot think the Times omits proper credits intentionally, and we would ask that paper to be more careful in future.

.....Miners are concentrating in considerable numbers about Upper Agua Frio, and in fact, throughout that whole valley. It is an excellent mining region; the flats and gulches have been but little worked since the wet winter of '52 and '53. A similar one to that is now confidently expected, and the rejuvenated appearance of numerous old log cabins, deserted since '53, shows that an unusual number of miners are preparing to winter in this locality. There is about Dr. WOODWARD'S store quite a resident population of miners, who have this summer been engaged in carting dirt from such gulches and flats as were known to be rich. This dirt is piled upon a succession of parallel sluices, settled their depth in the ground. In a sudden rush of water this dirt can be very quickly washed. Four men can wash as much in a week as they can cart in a summer. The following individuals have considerable amounts of dirt thus prepared:

Mr. Rotzior,	1000	loads,	estm'd at $3.50	per load
McCarthy & Co.	1000	"	" 2.00	"
Giltner,	3000	"	" 2.00	"
Platt,	500	"	" 2.50	"
Johnson,	500	"	" 3.00	"
Bosser,	200	"	" 2.50	"

There are many more having considerable amounts, but their names are not furnished.

THE MARIPOSA GRAVE YARD is a disgrace to the people of this place, verily. No fence, even, of the rudest description, protects it from the cattle, horses and hogs, which are everywhere running about the graves, and many of them are trampled to a level and undistinguishable. The few enclosures erected about graves by friends, are partially down or askew, caused by the scratching of some scurvy porker against them. With a very few exceptions, no mark of any description exists over graves to indicate to the passer by the name or aught regarding those whose body's are crumbling below, and whose memories are fast passing from the minds of the community who knew them but in a general sense. Yet if not here, in some far off land there lives those who mourn the absent one, and have not and will not forget. A mother or father, brothers and sisters, perhaps, exist. At a future time some of them may seek the place where he is laid. The public, in common decency, should be able to show it. In this yard a large proportion of this community will find their last resting places, and now, to do as we would be done by, is the commonest dictate of humanity. Let a fence be built, if but a rude one, and each grave marked in some cheap but durable manner with the simple name of its inmate and date of death, so far as it is possible to ascertain. We do not believe that all the names of those buried can be ascertained and the graves pointed out, but most can be. Less will be known about the matter next year, and five years hence, unless something is done, particular recollection will be almost entirely obliterated. UNKNOWN, will be the only response to the inquiry of who is buried here? and there! and there!

Two hundred and fifty dollars will accomplish this object, five hundred would be much better, but the first named amount will do and even less. Shall it be done?

ATLANTIC NEWS.

..... The Mail Steamer John L. Stephens, arrived at San Francisco, at 6 o'clock P. M., of Saturday, the 16th inst., bringing New York dates to Sept. 20, and a large number of passengers. The news is not important.

.....The New York Democratic State Convention was held at Syracuse, Sept. 15, and in harmony nominated Amasa J. Parker, of Albany, for Governor.—The success of this ticket is beyond question.

.....There are four tickets in the field in New York, viz: Democratic Ticket; the Republican Ticket the American Ticket; and last, the Temperance and Freedom Ticket, on which is Gerrit Smith's name for Governor.

.....Troubles continue at Staten Island in reference to the Quarantine Hospitals. The 8th Regiment from New York city have encamped on the grounds to protect them from any further attack.

.....A duel was fought at Richmond, Va., between Hon. Sherrard Clemens, M. C., and O. J. Wise son of Gov. Wise, and editor of the Richmond Enquirer. Mr. Clemens, the challenger, had his thigh fractured. Mr. Wise came out unhurt.

.....The Union Bank of Columbia Co., N. Y., had been robbed of specie and bank notes to the amount of $10,000.

.....The National Horse Fair had taken place at Springfield, Mass. It continued 4 days. Fast stock appeared from almost all the northern and western states. The Fair was superior to any held in past years.

.....A duel was fought near New Orleans, between Mr. Wood, of the True Delta, and a Mr. Barbazon. After three shots apiece were fired from rifles, the difficulty was settled, neither party being hurt.

.....The celebrated Dred Scott, the negro about whom so much trouble has been made within the last three years, is dead.

..... The Queen of England returned from her visit to Prince and Princess Frederick William, of Prussia. Rumor has it that the object of her visit was to harmonize matters between the newly-married couple, who were said to quarrel.

.....The great Chess Players of England, appeared at last advices, to have their match fully in Mr. Morphy, of New Orleans, the champion of America. A match for $2000 had been agreed upon between him and Mr. Staunton, the acknowledged best player in England. If Morphy should be victorious, the bung will have to be knocked out of Jonathan so that he can effervesce, else a burst may be expected.

.....A fine Clipper Ship called the General Cushing, went ashore on Saturday last, while attempting to leave the harbor of San Francisco, and soon became a total wreck. She was bound for Sydney, and was fully freighted by parties in San Francisco for that port.

.....The difficulties attending the working of the Atlantic Telegraph, are expected soon to be obviated.

.....Douglass, in stumping Illinois, had gone great lengths in carrying favor with the Republicans, insomuch so, that he is considered as belonging more to that party than to the Democracy.

NAVIGATION OF THE UPPER SAN JOAQUIN.—Capt. Hight and his party, who have been improving the Upper San Joaquin River, returned to this city. They ascended the River 175 miles in small boats. The party have spent much time and labor in removing snags, and have pretty well cleared out the most troublesome ones. In addition to this, they have cut down a large number of branches of trees that overhung the river, and interrupted the progress of the steamer when it was running. The channel has been deepened in some places where it was indispensable, and many other improvements have been made. The Henrietta will commence running as soon as there is a slight raise of the river, and will probably be able to run right or nine months of the year. This will be of great benefit to the trade of our city. —Stockton Republican.

This enterprise should be patronised by the people of Tulare, Fresno and Merced Counties, to the extent of their ability. Particularly by the merchants, much of encouragement could be given. As patronage is bestowed, the river will be improved, and a boat better adapted to its navigation will be placed upon it, instead of the Henrietta. A severe winter, at any rate, will show the people of those counties the great importance and convenience of the route.

☞An English paper does not like the storming of Jeddah.—It asks "If our government could spare Odessa, even after Sinope, why Is Jeddah sacrificed? And, as there was a French consul in the Jeddah affair, as well as an English consul, how comes it that our government has acted in isolation, without a French ship, s company? Is France to have all the gain of this war on the sultan, and is England, which has millions of Mahommedan subjects in India, to bear with all the hate for this murderous assault on a chief city of the Head of the Faithful, at the very moment when the pilgrimage from Mecca was returning to bear to every corner of the east a vow of vengeance against us? The present cabinet prides itself on its openness with the public; will it let us into the secret of this Jeddah business? At present it looks an awkward political accident."

☞A correspondent of the Charleston Mercury writing about the captured negroes in the "Echo" says: "One of the most singular of the exhibitions I saw was that of a woman whose hands were adorned with a pair of cotton gloves—almost her only covering. There was scarcely any comeliness among them, and the only one whose appearance agreeably attracted attention was the se styled princess, whose tattooing certainly gave evidenne of great dexterity and skill in the art.

Cheap enough. We once hugged a girl in church, some ten years ago, and the scrape has cost us a thousand a year ever since.—Chicago American.

We once hugged an old girl pretty bad out of church, the cash value of which in consequences was "right peart."

"I was still talking over our projects with Captain Penny, when a messenger was reported, making all speed to us over the ice. The news he brought was thrilling. 'Graves, Captain Penny! graves! Franklin's winter quarters!' We were instantly in motion. Capt. De Haven, Captain Penny, Commander Phillips and myself, joined by a party from the Rescue, hurried on over the ice, and scrambling along the loose and rugged slope that extends from Beechy to the shore, came, after a weary walk, to the crest of the isthmus. Here, amid the sterile uniformity of snow and slate, were the head boards of three graves, made after the old orthodox fashion of grave stones at home."

MILLERTON CORRESPONDENCE.

MILLERTON, October 18th, 1858.

Editor Gazette:—The cloud which threw its lowering shadow over our little town, has vanished into thin air, and the river is as low again as ever. The breaches in the miners' dams have been repaired, and the work of washing out is ready to proceed with.

Everybody will be at work to-day. Fry, Storey & Co., whom mentioned as having a rich claim, are already in full operation with five rockers; having worked a day and a half before Saturday night, during which time they took out $8 ounces, being about a pound gold a day for each rocker—which is considered pretty fair diggings down here.

As well as the claims which I mentioned to you as likely to prove remunerative, in my last communication, I would mention another, about thirty miles above Millerton, (in the neighborhood of Mr. Gaster's Store), from which a company of Chinamen washed out, in a couple of days, eleven hundred dollars.

If the weather continues fair for two or three weeks longer, the mining prosperity of Millerton may be considered as secured for this season. By that time Lawyer's Ditch will have opened up a field of winter diggings, sufficient to accommodate the whole of those now employed in the river, and as many more.

There are some flying rumors among sporting gentlemen, about another horse race, and that somebody up the river has a horse which would match Pennyroyal any day. It is the general impression here that Pennyroyal would be hard to beat. If it takes place I shall let you know. AGRICOLA.

SPORTING INTELLIGENCE.

CHESS PLAYING—MORPHY VICTORIOUS.—From information received, we learn that Paul Morphy, the young American chess player, won the match he was playing with Herr Lowenthal, at Birmingham, the score at the close standing thus:

Morphy	9
Lowenthal	3
Drawn	2

The match was for $500.

The Birmingham Chess Tournament has resulted (much to the surprise of the English chess world) in Herr Lowenthal winning the first prize—a circumstance that must do much to reconcile him to his loss of the match with Morphy. Mr. Staunton, the great player, who so unsparingly criticised both Morphy and Lowenthal in the columns of the Illustrated London News, was beaten handsomely by the last named gentleman, who scored two straight games, thus winning the prize. Sometime since Herr Lowenthal was in the habit of receiving the odds of the pawn and move from Staunton, but now there seems to be but little difference between them; if any, they are in Lowenthal's favor.

Mr. Morphy's feat of playing 8 blindfold games is astonishing all England. Seven of them he won and one he lost. He is now in Paris, where he will play with Harrwitz and other continental players. The match between Staunton and Morphy for $5000 will be played in London, commencing the first week in November. In the meantime the young American has engaged to play a match of 21 games with Prof. Anderson, of Breslaw—supposed to be the best player in the world.

FASTEST TIME IN THE AIR.—A recent pigeon flying match was held in Sheffield, England—of rather a sweepstakes, for which pigeons flew—in which a distance of nineteen miles was flown by a young grizzled cock pigeon in 16 minutes 14 seconds. This is said by Bell's Life to be the shortest time on record by two seconds; but whether for that particular course of nineteen miles, or all England, it does not say. 19 miles in 16 min. 14 seconds is at the rate of a mile in 51½ sec., which rather beats a race horse.

FAST TIME IN ENGLAND.—Bell's Life of the 15th of August reports the victory of Verona, a four-year-old, carrying 61 lb., for the East Hampstead Handicap, of a mile and a quarter, in the remarkable time of 2 minutes 7 sec. This is at the rate of 1:41 3-5 to the mile—nearly a second less than the time of Henry Perritt at New Orleans. Henry Perritt was a three year old, carrying 86 lb.

☞It will be seen by the following card from Porter's Spirit, that Michael Phelan has been challenged to the Championship at Billiards. Mr. Lipscombe, though an Englishman, has accomplished himself sufficiently in the American four-ball game to dare the champion to a trial, at his own race, and on his own ground:

New York, September 18, 1858.

DEAR SPIRIT:—As Michael Phelan places himself as the Champion Billiard player of the U. S., and as I differ in that opinion, I am willing to play him the Four-Ball American Game, for money or for the Championship, as you considered my former challenge was unfair, and you supposing there was some one in England held in reserve, which I beg to deny. I beg to subscribe myself, Yours, respectfully,
ST. JOHN LIPSCOMBE, Boston.

A BATTLE OF LANGUAGES.—Quite an amusing occurrence took place in San Francisco, between a Chinaman and a Frenchman, says the Call, concerning a disputed matter of clothes-washing. Gesticulation and vociferation were fast and furious, and, to listen to the wordy war, one would imagine that both of them, like Shakspeare's character, had been to a "feast of languages, and stolen all the scraps," but were totally unable to digest the polyglott food thus surreptitiously obtained. There was a perfect jumble of English, Chinese, French—and for aught we know, Arabic and some of the dead languages. The Chinaman had the Frenchman by the collar, and rattled away at the following rate:

"Me washee plenty times—two, tree weakey—no lab got cash—you no good—allee same berry bad—you teefy! you hong-wo-ti yum!" screamed John, falling back on his mother tongue for an expletive sufficiently weighty.

"Sacre! you be one liare! one what you call dam rascale! one mechant chien!"

"You welly bad—Frenchee man no good. 'Spose you no pay; me speakee Shudgee Coonee. Shabbee?"

"Non! I can no comprehende—no shabbee—no understand la langue Chinoise. Diable! I give you plenty l'argent, you—you—coquin!" rattled the Frenchman, gesticulating like mad.

Here both parties became so excited that they fell back on their mother tongue, and amid the roar of "hongs" and the rattle of French consonants, the Chinaman tore his antagonist's coat, the latter jerked off a piece of the Celestial's tailacular appendage, and the conference broke up in a general row of invectives, fierce, no doubt, but unintelligible. Our ears still ring with the noise occasioned by the polyglott war, and the cause of the difficulty between France and China—the disputed wash account still remains statu quo ante bellum.

A CABLE INCIDENT.—When the Niagara and Agamemnon had made their splice in the cable preparatory to separating in mid-ocean and the line was being lowered over the sterns of the vessels, a little before it touched the water, a sea-gull, fatigued no doubt after a long flight, perched on it, and his claws got fast in the thick tar with which that particular portion of the cable was coated. He was unable to extricate himself, and the poor bird was dragged down under water and drowned. He made desperate efforts to save himself, but to no purpose, as he stuck fast; and when he found himself going beneath, his despairing screams sounded far over the waters. The sailors first regarded the occurrence as an evil omen, but afterwards concluded that it had something to do with the final success of the enterprise.

DOMESTICATED TOADS.—The Trinity Journal relates the following: "A miner on the river has domesticated half a dozen big toads who live under a bridge over a spring branch. Every morning he lays out a piece of beef; the toads come out and sit in a ring round the beef without touching it. Presently yel low jackets begin to collect on the beef, which are snapped up and devoured by the toads, the others manifesting the utmost decorum while one catches a bee. Occasionally one gets stung, upon which he manifests great disgust and dives into the pool to soak out the 'pizen.' Our informant declares that one of the sharpest of the toads has already learned to pick his teeth after meat."

IMPROVISING.—An Italian girl named Giannini Milli, is taking the aristocracy by storm with her wonderful improvisations. Florence and Vienna are rivals in contending for her presence. On these occasions subjects are proposed in writing by the audience and lodged in an iron urn, when the number agreed upon, usually a half a-dozen or more, are drawn by lot before her appearance. When she enters, the music, which fills the intervals of recitation, ceases; the theme is presented in the midst of the general salutations, and then, after a moment's pause, her charming voice runs into an easy flow, like an endless river, without obstruction—never weary, rarely hurried.

VIXEN VIC. OF PRUSSIA.—The Boston Post most conscientiously affirms that "We are sorry to say it—we do not wish to say it—but must, as faithful chronicles, say it—namely: Victoria's daughter, Mrs. Princess of Prussia, quarrels with her husband; or, Mr. Prince of Prussia, quarrels with Mrs. Princess—that is, they do not think exactly alike, and Mrs. Victoria is with the 'happy pair,' trying to tie the 'true lover's knot' a little tighter. The story that the young Princess actually ejected the young Prince from the nuptial couch by placing her royal little feet against his highness' ribs, and then suddenly extending her royal curved organs of locomotion into a positive bee line, is doubted by Prussian engineers."

RECIPE FOR TATTLING.—Take of the vine called Runabout, and of the root of Nimble-Tongue, each six handfulls, fifteen ounces of Ambition, and the same quantity of Nonsense, bruise them together in the mortar of Misapprehension, and boil them over the fire of wild Surmises till you see the the scum of Falsehood rising on top, put it in the bottle of Malignity, and stop it with the cork of Envy, then suck a glass through the straw of Malevolence, and you will be prepared to speak all manner of evil, without respect to person or character.

SYRENS ON THE BEACH.

An individual, fortunate enough to have been ensconced in a quiet place, in full view of the beach and not more than a thousand miles from Meigg's Wharf on Monday evening last, would have had his attention attracted by a sight so unusual in this city and so beautiful withal, that it would, in all probability, have overcome his sense of propriety. For at an early hour on that delightful evening, five of San Francisco's fairest daughters enjoyed the uncommon luxury of a sea bath, in a spot where they supposed themselves safe from impertinent intrusion or scrutiny. Whether they were so not, perhaps our readers can determine, provided they can trace out the origin of this paragraph. A young friend of ours, at any rate—rather a handsome rakish young fellow at that—seems to know a good deal about the affair, for he says that the girls in their white dresses and with their hair hanging loose upon their shoulders and their eyes glistening with pleasure, presented, as they sported about in the still water, an appearance which fully entitled them to the appellation of syrens. Now as the fun took place in the evening, and as the moon at that time, if we recollect aright, was rather pale, the natural inference is, we should think, that our friend was tolerably close. Other people, however, may draw a different conclusion.—San Francisco Spirit.

AN EDITOR TIGHT.—We believe it is rare that editors indulge in a drop, but when they do their readers are sure to find them out. A Syracuse cotemporary was called upon to chronicle a "melancholy" event at a time when his head was rather heavy, and did it up in the following manner: "Yesterday morning, at 4 o'clock P. M. a man with a heel in the hole of his stocking, committed arsenic by swallowing a dose of suicide. The inquest of a verdict returned a jury that the deceased came to the facts in accordance with his death. He leaves a child and six small wives to lament the end of his untimely loss. 'In death we are in the midst of life.'"

OLD HUNDRED.—Think for a moment of the assembled company who have, at different times and in different places, joined in the familiar tune! Throng upon throng—the stern, the timid, the gentle, the brave, the beautiful, their rapt faces all beaming with the inspiration of the heavenly sounds! Old Hundred! king of the sacred band of ancient airs! never shall our ears grow weary of hearing, or our tongues of singing thee! And when we get to heaven, who knows but what the first triumphal strain that welcomes us, may be—

"Be thou, O God, exalted high!"

—Unknown.

☞Boswell observed to Johnson that there was no instance of a beggar dying for want in the streets of Scotland.

"I believe, sir, you are very right," answered Johnson; "but this does not arise from the want of beggars, but the impossibility of starving a Scotchman."

☞Dr. L. J. Czapkay.—We would direct the especial attention of Invalids to the perusal of Dr. L. J. Czapkay's advertisement, to be found in another column of this paper, to place the services of a learned and experienced Physician within their reach. So much ill has been inflicted upon the human family from the pernicious and ignorant practices of inpirics, that it seems as if we were fulfilling a bounden duty to make known where judicious relief can be obtained. To those unfortunate enough to suffer from the effects of sexual or private diseases, or other ill treatment, we cheerfully commend Dr. L. J. Czapkay as a man of rare scientific and medical acquirements. Possessing all the requirements, from long experience and acknowledged skill, for the successful practice of his profession. Having made sexual complaints his especial study, like the celebrated Ricord of Paris, he is enabled to guarantee a speedy and permanent cure in all cases of private or chronic diseases, whether the effect of contagion, self-abuse, or loss of virility, and in order that patients at a distance may avail themselves of his advice, free consultation by letter is open to them. The knowledge we have of the numerous cures he has effected, some of which were of long standing, leads us to place much faith in Dr. C's efficacy, and commend him to the confidence of those in ill health. d9

UDOLPHO WOLFE'S SCHNAPPS.
A medicinal drink, of eminently salutary qualities, manufactured by himself exclusively, at his factory at Schiedam, in Holland, and well known during the last twelve years throughout all the Atlantic and Western States.
It is made from the best barley that can be selected in Europe, with the essence of an aromatic Italian berry, of acknowledged and extraordinary medicinal properties. It has long since acquired a higher reputation, both in Europe and America, than any other diuretic beverage.
Analyzed, it is a perfectly pure Liquor, in its effects a mild and whole-some tonic. It is extensively used and approved by the medical faculty, the temperance people, heads of families, &c.
In Gravel, Gout, and Rheumatism, in obstructions of the Bladder and Kidneys, and in General Debility, its effects are prompt, decided, and invariably reliable; and it is not only a remedy for these maladies, but in all cases in which they are produced by drinking bad water, which is almost universally the cause of them, it acts as a sure preventive.
For Fever and Ague it is one of the most efficacious preventives that can be resorted to.
The Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps
is consequently in great demand by persons traveling, or about to settle in new parts of the country especially, as well as by many in every community, where it has become known, on account of its various other remedial properties.
In all cases of a Dropsical tendency, it is generally the only remedy required, when adopted in the early stage of the disease.
In dyspepsia maladies, when taken in proper quantities, as a diet drink, and especially at dinner, it is found, by uniform experience, to be eminently efficacious in the most obstinate cases, when even the best of the usual remedies have failed to afford more than temporary relief. In cases of Flatulency, it is an immediate and invariable specific, and it may be administered in diluted and proportionate quantities, even to YOUNG INFANTS, in all those paroxysms of griping pain in the stomach and bowels to which they are especially subject, as well as in the cholic of grown persons.
Its judicious adoption in connection with the principal meals, or when a sense of exhaustion dictates its use, never fails to relieve the debility attendant upon protracted chronic maladies, low temperament and exhausted vital energy, by whatever cause induced. These are facts to which many of the most eminent medical men, both in England and the United States, have borne testimony, and which are corroborated by the highest written authorities.
Put up in quart and pint bottles, in cases of one dozen, with my name on the bottles, cork, and facsimile of my signature on the label.
For sale by all the respectable Druggists and Liquor dealers in California and Oregon.

HARD TO BEAT.—Some of the Western river men are not slow coaches in telling long yarns. During the low water times, the river folks had nothing better to do than sample fluids and solids, whittle, smoke and tell yarns. About a dozen well known river captains, pilots, etc., congregated the other day, when one of them led off with—

"Capt. Mac, thundering cool morning."

"Cool," says Mac; "don't begin to be, Why, boys, I've seen the water so cool up the Missouri, that I and Bob Graham got into a skiff to cross the river, a norther swept down the stream, and the water began to chill. "Pull," says I, "Bob stick in your paddle, it's going to freeze."

"'Tis freezing," said Bob.

"Pull," says I; "and the ice began to get as thick as window glass; afore we got out ten rods further, the ice was as a beef steak, though Bob and I kept breaking up the ice and pushing the boat, it got so ahead of us that we dropped the skiff—she was frozen in. We got out on the ice and ran like thunder to get ashore before we froze to death!"

"Not so cold that wan't nuther," said a weather-beaten pilot. "Now, there's Jimmy Gafillan and I were once driving a flock of sheep across the prairie near the Illinois; one of them north winds swept down upon us; we found we were going to freeze, so we took to our feet and run two miles to a wood; there we started a fire and laid up for the night. I was awful cold—a fellow would roast on the side to the fire and freeze on the other. Well, boys, the next morning, we goes out to the sheep; they were huddled together; we commenced startling 'em up; none of 'em would move, and by thunder and Goliah! we found 'em all dead—froze together all in a lump."

AFFECTING INCIDENT.—On the home voyage of one of our New York and Liverpool packets, she being crowded with emigrants that, awful scourge, ship fever, broke out. The carpenter of the vessel, one of nature's noblemen, and having on board his little son, a lad of some twelve summers, was one of the first victims. His shipmates sadly enclosed his body in his hammock, and, having read over him the burial service, and attached to his feet a grindstone for the purpose of sinking it, committed it to the embrace of old ocean. The poor boy, tilled with grief at the loss of his natural protector, sprang overboard, and before he could be rescued he was beyond the reach of human aid.

On the day following the burial, a large shark was noticed in the wake of the ship; and as it was almost calm, the sailors asked permission to catch it, which was readily granted by the captain. Having procured a hook and attached a chain and line, and baited it with pork, they cast it overboard, and soon had the excited pleasure of hooking the monster, and with the aid of the windlass they hauled the writhing mass on board. As it lay on the deck in its death struggles, the sailors heard a singular rumbling noise, that seemed to proceed from within the dying captive. Taking a ship-axe, they soon cut their way into the now dead fish, and to their great surprise, found that it had swallowed the carpenter, grindstone and boy, and that the former, who had swooned, had rigged up the grindstone, and, with the assistance of the boy to turn it, was just grinding his jack-knife to cut his way out.

ADVICE OF AN OLD LADY.—Now, John, listen to me, for I am older than you, or I could'nt be your mother. Never do you marry a young woman, John, before you have contrived to happen at the house where she lives, at least four or five times before breakfast. You should know how late she lies in bed in the morning. You should notice whether her complexion is the same in the morning as it is in the evening, or whether the morning wash and the towel have robbed her of her evening bloom. You should take care to surprise her, so that you may see her in her morning dress, and observe how her hair looks when she is not expecting you. If possible, you should be where you could hear the morning conversation between her and her mother. If she is ill-natured and snappish to her mother, so she will be to you, depend on it. But if you find her up and dressed neatly in the morning, with the same countenance, the same neatly combed hair, the same ready and pleasant answers to her mother, which characterize her appearance and deportment in the evening, and particularly if she is lending a hand to get the breakfast ready in good reason, she is a prize, John, and the sooner you secure her to yourself the better.

☞ An old lady, living on the line of the Illinois Central Railroad, seeing some men engaged in putting up telegraph wires, wanted to know if they were going to have a slack-wire dance on the opening of the railroad."

☞ "Good morning, Mr. Perkins.—Have you some excellent *mo*lasses?"

"No, marm. Our excellent *mo*lasses are all out, but we have some fine old Flamingo, Some New Orleans, some West Engine, and a of sort *mo*lasses which is made from maple sugar, which we call seerup."

"Want to know, Mr. Perkins, if this seeryup is acterly made from maple sugar?"

"I pledge you my word of honor, Mrs. Hornby, that it is acterly made from the ginuine bird's-eye maple sugar."

"Then, Mr. Perkins, I shall not interrogatory any more, but without further circumlocution, proceed to purchase half a pound of the seerup."

"Beg pardon, Mrs. Hornby, we don't sell it by weight but by measure."

"Oh, by measure, then I'll take half a yard."

This certificate was sent us by our agents at Patterson, N. Y., which is also certified to by several of the neighbors of Mr. Ballard.

Messrs. A. B. & D. SANDS: Gentlemen,—It gives me pleasure to send you the following statement in regard to my son. He took a severe cold, and after eight weeks of severe suffering the disease settled in his left leg and foot, which soon swelled to the utmost. The swelling was lanced by his physician, and discharged most profusely; after that no less than eleven ulcers formed on the leg and foot at one time. We had five different physicians, but none relieved him much; and the last winter found him so emaciated and low that he was unable to leave his bed, suffering the most excruciating pain. During this time the bone had become so much affected, that piece after piece came out, of which he has now more than twenty-five preserved in a bottle, varying from one-half to one and a half inches in length. We had given up all hopes of his recovery; but at this time we were induced to try your SARSAPARILLA, and with its use his health and appetite began immediately to improve, and so rapid was the change that less than a dozen bottles effected a perfect cure.

With gratitude, I remain truly yours,

DARIUS BALLARD.

MANUFACTORY & STORE.

I WISH TO CALL THE ATTENTION OF THE PUBLIC TO THE FOLLOWING:

Having been taught by experience and loss, that it will be more prudent to work at CHEAPER rates, and get paid for my work, than to charge higher prices and thus make honest customers pay for those that don't, I have came to the conclusion that in future I SHALL DO NO MORE WORK ON A CREDIT. No exception will be made to this rule; friends as well as strangers are expected to pay cash or its equivalent on delivery.

☞ On the other hand, I am willing to do the same when purchasing.

Those that are indebted to me now, will assist me considerably in paying my old debts, by settling theirs.

In addition to the above, I would state that I am able and prepared to do any kind of work that can be made of wood, from the roughest Carpenter's work to the most Artificial work, including TURNING, CARVING, PAINTING, PAPER HANGING and GLAZING.

A limited assortment of Furniture constantly kept on hand, which will be sold hereafter at reduced prices.

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY'S

GRAND MEDICAL & SURGICAL INSTITUTE

SACRAMENTO STREET, BELOW MONTGOMERY,

Established in 1854, for the Permanent Cure of all Private and Chronic Diseases, and the suppression of quackery.

Dr. L. J. CZAPKAY, late in the Hungarian Revolutionary War, Chief Physician to the 20th Regiment of Honveds, Chief Surgeon to the Military Hospital of Pesth, Hungary, and late Lecturer on diseases of Urinary Organs and Diseases of Women and Children returns his sincere thanks to his numerous patients for their patronage, and would take this opportunity to remind them that he continues to consult at his institute for the cure of all forms of Private Diseases—such as syphilis gonorrhœa, nocturnal emissions, and all the consequences of self abuse. In the first stages of syphilitic or gonorhœal diseases, he guarantees a cure in a few days, without inconvenience to the patient or hindrance to his business. When a patient, by neglect or improper treatment, has developed the symptoms of secondary syphilis, such as buboes, or painful swellings of the groins, or ulcers in the throat or nose, which if not checked, destroy the soft parts and cause the bones to mortify, separate and come away, leaving the sufferer heideous to behold; or when blotches and pimples break out upon the skin, or when he has painful swellings upon the bones, or when his constitution is injured so as to predispose to consumption or constitutional diseases the Doctor guarantees a cure or asks no compensation.

In Rheumatism, chronic or acute, in Dysentery or Diarrhœa, he has safe and effectual remedies. For the treatment of the consequences of self-abuse, such as nocturnal emissions, nervousness, timidity, headache, pains in the back and limbs, general weakness, loss of appetite, loss of memory, injury to the sight, restlessness, confusion of ideas, dislike for society, and a feeling of weariness of life, with the nervous system so exciteable that slight noises shock or startle the patient, making his existence miserable. For the above maladies the Doctor will guarantee a cure or ask no compensation. He can be consulted free of charge, and invites all to call, as it will cost them nothing, and may be much to their advantage.

A Tribute to Merited Worth.

☞ A TESTIMONIAL, RICHLY MERITED.—The ingratitude of man to his fellow man is so often met with in life, that testimonials, prompted by the finer feelings of the heart, are oasis in the life of those who sacrifice their best days in philanthropic devotion to the alleviation of the ills of frail mortality. Empiricism floods the columns of our press with fraudulent and fictitious letters; singing pæans to the worth of their own egotistical charlatanism. Below we append a letter from a worthy man, who, a brief period since, seemed destined to "shuffle off this mortal coil," who looked forward to his dissolution with that pleasure which only those weighed down by the heavy hand of disease can. Contrary to hope, the ability of a skillful physician has restored him to his former health. Relieved from his terrible situation, and impelled by gratitude, he makes known his case and remedial agent, and his statement is authenticated by a Notary Public. The demands of society imperiously command its publicity; and it is given once to warn the unwary than to sound the praises of a physician of whom scores of like cases can be cited:

CERTIFICATE.

The undersigned, desirous of acquainting those who may be unfortunate enough to be similarly afflicted, where a permanent relief of their sufferings may be obtained, feels it his duty to thus publicly express his most sincere gratitude to Dr. L. J. Czapkay for the permanent recovery of his health. Borne down by the distressing symptoms incident to the vicious practice of uncontrollable passion in youth; depressed in body and mind; unable to perform even the most trifling duty imposed upon the daily avocations of life, I sought the advice of many physicians, who at first regarded my disease of trifling importance—but alas! after a few weeks, and in several instances months of their treatment, I found to my unutterable horror, that instead of relief, the symptoms became more alarming in their torture, and being told by one that my disease being principally confined to the brain, medicines would be of little consequence, I despaired of ever regaining my health, strength and energy, and as a last resort and with but a faint hope, called upon Dr. Czapkay, who after examining my case, prescribed some medicine which almost instantly relieved me of the dull pain and dizziness in my head. Encouraged by this result, I resolved to place myself immediately under his care, and by a strict obedience to all his directions and advice, my head became clear, my ideas collected; the constant pain in my back and groins; the weakness of my limbs; the nervous reaction of my whole body on the slightest alarm or excitement; the misanthropy and evil forebodings; the self-distrust and want of confidence in others; the inability to study, and want of resolution; the frightful, exciting, and at times pleasurable dreams at night, followed by involuntary discharges, have all disappeared; and in fact, in two months after having consulted the Doctor, I felt as if inspired by a new life—that life which but a short time ago I contemplated to end by my own hand.

With a view to guard the unfortunate from falling into the snares of incompetent quacks, I deem it my duty to offer this testimony to the great and skill of Dr. Czapkay, and recommend him to all who may stand in need of medical advice, being assured, by my own experience, that under his care a radical and permanent cure will be effected. B. F. FILLMORE.

State of California, County of San Francisco. Subscribed and sworn before me, this 17th day of April, 1856. (Signed) JOHN MIDDLETON. [L. S.]

Notary Public.

A CARD.—Prompted by an honest desire of my heart, I wish to lay before the public, a case which deserves a high commendation, not only as an act of scientific skill, but that of humanity also. About two years ago, I suddenly and from some cause unknown to me, was seized with a fit of epilepsy, which, owing to my inability to meet the expense consequent upon a thorough medical treatment, and the failures which I met with on attempting it, soon became such (as I was then led to believe) as to defy the skill of a physician. I was frequently, while in pursuit of my calling, thrown down to the ground without the slightest warning, and although insensible to the agonies, I yet despised the miseries of my life, and soon learned to look upon those who would render me assistance or shelter me from danger as enemies who sought to prolong the misery of my existence. While in this state, and having previous to my affliction, tasted the sweets of life, I once more was induced to attempt seeking aid of a physician, and by recommendation, called upon Dr. L. J. Czapkay. I told him my circumstances, and my inability to reward him for all his services, regardless of which, however, he at once undertook the case, and with the blessing of God I was once more restored to perfect health. Unable to reward him for the boon which I enjoy at present, and yet conscious of my indebtedness, I consider it due to myself and to all afflicted, to make the case public, in order that those in need of medical advice may find a physician in whom every confidence can be placed.

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

GREAT BLESSING TO MANKIND!—Innocent but potent! Dr. L. J. Czapkay's Prophilacticum, (self-disinfecting agent,) a sure preventive against gonorrhœal and syphilitic diseases, and an unsurpassed remedy for venereal, scrofulous, gangrenous and cancerous ulcers, foetid discharges from the vagina, uterus and urethra, and all cutaneous eruptions and diseases. As immersion is a preventive against small-pox, so is Dr. L. J. Czapkay's Prophilacticum a preventive against syphilitic and gonorrhœal diseases. Although harmless in itself, it possesses the power of chemically destroying the syphilitic virus, and thereby saving thousands from being infected by the most loathsome of all diseases. Let no young man who appreciates health be without Dr. Czapkay's Prophilacticum. It is in very convenient packages, and will be found convenient to use, being used as a soap. Price $5.
